

A Culture of High Standards

As professional educators we each have a responsibility to:

- Develop positive and professional relationships with students.
- Set, and consistently reinforce, high expectations for student participation in the teaching and learning programs of the College.
- Establish clear, positive and respectful communication with students and with each other.
- Set clear standards for student behaviour both in and out of class and apply these standards fairly and consistently.
- Maintain and model orderly classroom procedures.